

The military can be involved in large scale emergency situations such as natural disasters like forest fires, floods, storms etc. along with other national emergencies which may call for evacuation orders. GEMS works to help people evacuate and find accommodations during such emergencies, hence we would like to consider the military as a possible user group for the GEMS project. This group will include:

- National Defense
- Royal Canadian Navy
- The Canadian Army

This user group will have access to:

- Detailed information regarding currently available accommodations for mass evacuation
- GEMS contact information in order to confirm/manage bookings
- Current evacuation process's and accommodations for evacuees.
